City Of Caldwell, Idaho

Caldwell's Economic Development Department is to encourage economic growth in the Caldwell region that will create diverse, quality jobs and provide a strong financial basis for a healthy community. The department focuses on supporting and expanding existing businesses and assisting new retail, commercial and industrial establishments to develop in the city.

Caldwell has seen significant growth over the past few years, much which is attributed to the low cost of doing business, the ease of establishing a business, and a pro-business city administration.

The Boise Valley is centrally located in the Mountain Time Zone and Southwestern Idaho, providing easy non-stop access to all major cities on the West Coast, the Pacific Northwest and Intermountain West.

The Boise Metro is home to 749,202 people and a labor force of 373,691 within a 45-minute drive of Boise. The average commute time is 22 minutes.

The major interstate serving the Boise Valley is I-84, running through the metro area's major cities Boise, Meridian, Nampa, Caldwell, and I-184 branches toward the northeast into downtown Boise. Daily commutes are easy for the Boise Valley's population with federal highways 20, 26, and 30 and state highways 21, 44 and 55 providing access to communities across the Valley. Valley Regional Transit offers public transportation

There are 50 motor freight companies traveling 5 interstates, 20 U.S. highways and 30 state highways that serve the Boise Valley. More than 1,600 miles of rail line through Union Pacific and Burlington Northern Santa Fe provide connection points to Canada, Mexico and the U.S. These rail lines are aided by the State's regional line and 6 short line railroads. Annually, the rail system transports over 11 million tons of freight.
